Based in New York and London, CrossBorder Solutions will now become part of Thomson Tax & Accounting. The acquisition will enable Thomson Tax & Accounting to expand into the transfer pricing/tax market and enhance its offerings in the tax provisions market -- two fast-growing markets in the corporate tax segment. As an international tax solutions provider, CrossBorder Solutions' products facilitate transfer pricing documentation and FAS 109 compliance to multinational, publicly-traded companies based in the United States and Europe.

"CrossBorder Solutions' innovative product line and strong customer partnerships directly complement Thomson Tax & Accounting's best-of-breed software and service offerings. This acquisition will greatly expand the range of products and services that we can provide to our corporate tax customers, particularly in the income tax market where we have already established a leading position with our InSource(R) products," said Roy M. Martin, Jr., president and chief executive officer, Thomson Tax & Accounting. "We look forward to building on their legacy and ours to provide exceptional products and services to tax compliance and planning customers."

"We see this transaction as a natural step for our company in continuing to provide our customers with the most innovative and intuitive tax software available," said Donald Scherer, CEO, CrossBorder Solutions. "By combining CrossBorder Solutions with Thomson Tax & Accounting, we will be able to leverage the expertise of both companies to create even greater opportunities for growth."
